Michael Weakley Tells It Like It Is In His Native Language

Since I have been here, I have really come to like many of the sincere aspects of American life. I think the main aspect I have come to like is the sincere search for more honest lives by some students. The boys are faced with the fact that sometime or other they may have to go fight a war. And a lot of them are really thinking, "Should America be in the Vietnam war?" The ones that do go and fight are very brave; and so, too, are the ones that are convinced America should not be in the war and decide not to fight. Whatever their choice, I am glad I do not have to make that choice.

The only criticism I have of your school system is that I feel the seniors should be treated more like college students in every aspect. The transition period between high school and college is hard and it is even harder without any high school preparation. Otherwise Troy High is the best school I have attended. Troy has so much valuable and helpful equipment (such as films and language labs) that are unheard of in New Zealand high schools, as well as a very good library. The main difference between Troy High School and mine is that there were no girls in my school. The only girl in my school was the librarian — and she was about 35 years old.

Some people have asked me if I think that Troy students are restricted in any great way. Compared to New Zealand, no. In fact, a factor of American life I have come to love is the freedom all have in most aspects of life. Americans are very lucky people.

One thing that I have learned while being here, and have come to love, is that life is experiences one after another. When I go back to New Zealand, I hope to experience different occupations. I hope to go to college; I hope to do T.V. work; I hope to work as a photographer; in short, I hope to do a lot of jobs because this is the only way I would really enjoy life — and this I learned from America.

A lot of people have asked me why I became interested in becoming an exchange student. Since the age of 14 I had wanted to come to America as a teenager. So when a teacher asked me if I would be interested in going to America as an exchange student, I naturally said, "Yes." And here I am. I applied to the organization called the International Christian Youth Exchange, run by various churches in New Zealand, by writing about myself, my family, and what I expected life to be like in America. They must have liked what I wrote because they were kind enough to select me. So before they could change their minds, I got my passport, told the American Embassy that I wasn't a Communist, and hopped on the nearest America-bound plane. I did quite a bit of hopping because there are very few America-bound planes in New Zealand. And here I am — for a year to stay.

"The loneliness of a long distance runner."

This year's cross-country team was well-balanced and strong. The squad was second in the Fairborn Invitational and fourth in the District. Marshall Jones, as in the past two years, lead the harriers over the two-mile course. He represented Troy at the state meet in Columbus, Ohio, placing second in the District and third in the Regionals. Bob Campbell, a freshman, became second man in the middle of the season and may be the man to watch in the years to come. Coach N. G. Smith feels next year's squad should improve on this year's 5-2 season.

Gridders End Season On High Note

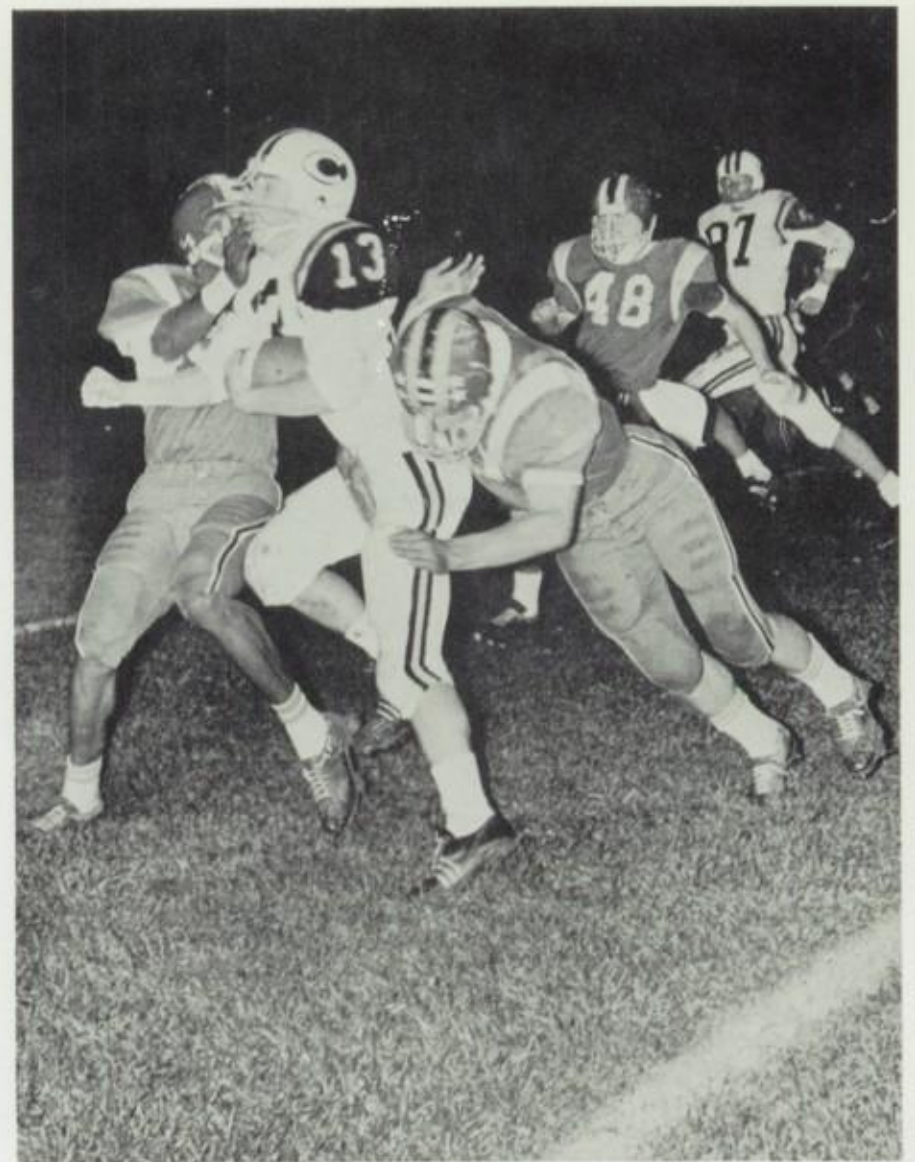

Troy had a disappointing season for their first year in the Western Ohio League. The Trojans compiled a 2-8 record. The two wins included a forfeit win over Stebbins and a fine hard playing win over Wayne. In team balloting the best offensive player award went to quarterback, Fred McMullen. The best defensive player was All-W.O.L. linebacker, Jim Johnston. Best blocker was Randy Blizman. Dave McCormack was named the best tackler and the most improved player was Jeff Welbaum. Troy's most valuable player went to senior tailback, Tom Massie.

This year's squad compiled a fine 5-2 record. Led by Gordon Bell, Joe Allen, and Al Mayer the team defeated every W.O.L. team they faced. The two losses occurred at Piqua and Milton Union. Coach Brewer believes this squad will be a big asset to next year's varsity.

The Rainmaker

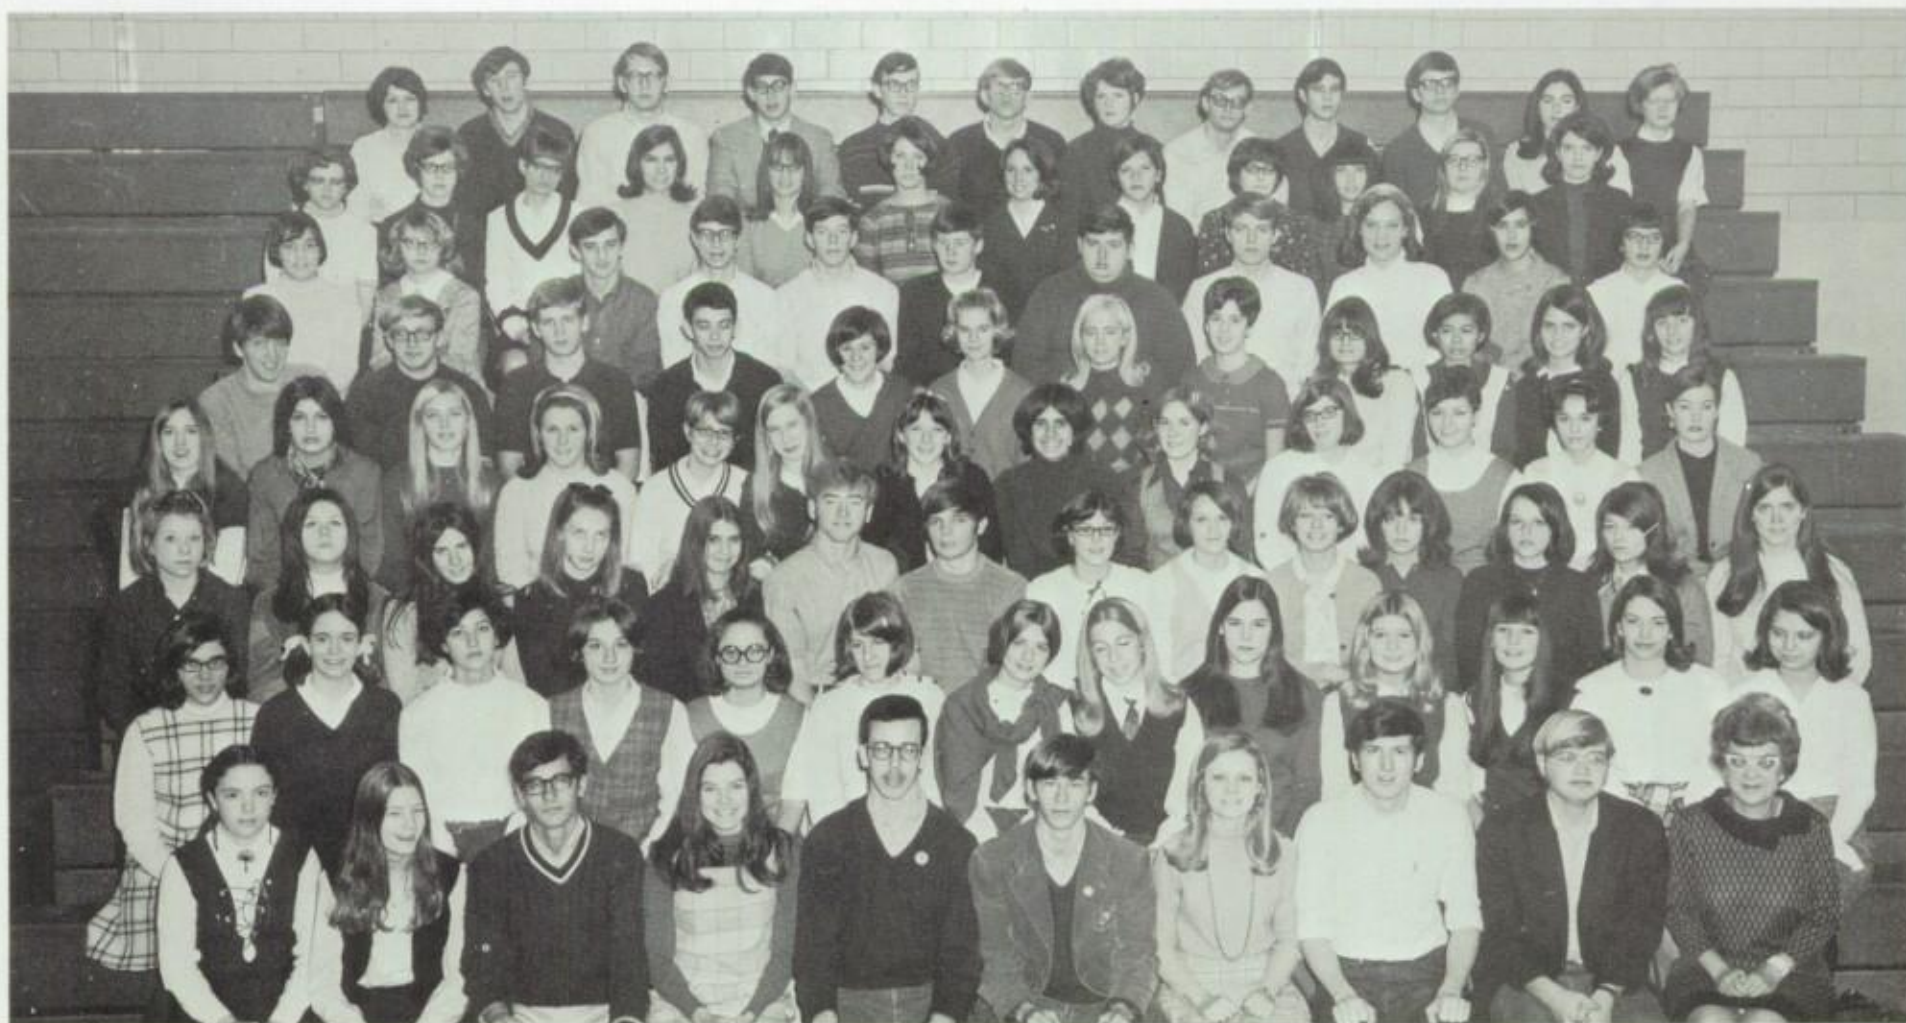

The rehearsal, the perfection, and the performance . . . the understanding. It is a search for something . . . the child-like fantasy of a Snow White? Recognition? Portrayal? . . . Relief from the drought . . . an end to the loneliness and hope for understanding. The search is The Rainmaker.

Pep Band

Spirit! the Pep Band has it. From the Piqua Pep Rally, to the final basketball game, the P.B. was there creating excitement and good times with their beat and skits. At the first football rallies their absence was felt. Along with director Doug McCabe, the P.B. left the hot marching practice to get to the rallies. Thanks to the PEP BAND.

A SUPERB SEASON

Troy's basketball team finished the year with a 12-9 record. Paced by all-W.O.L. forward, Tim Kirtley, the team defeated two of the toughest teams in the W.O.L., Fairborn and Wayne. Denny Dickensheets led the team in rebounds while Daryll Martin led in both field goals and efficiency. Bill Dickensheets led the team in assists and Jeff Elliott lead from the free throw line. The M.V.P. was Denny Dickensheets. With four of five starters returning, Coach Denari believes next year's team should be number one.

Bill Dickensheets scores two against Piqua Central.

Baseballers Finish 7 - 12

Our baseball team went through a very frustrating season. The team finished with a 7-12 record. Coach Preston pinpointed it on two things. Number one was the weather. The baseballers were forced to play an irregular schedule due to several rained-out games. The second was the players themselves. Although there were great performances on the mound, the batsmen couldn't get a hit at the right time. Several games were lost by a single run. Mike Jackson lead the team in hitting with a .289 batting average. Dave Clawson was named the most valuable player.

TRUE GREATNESS

A man is as great as the dreams he dreams,
As great as the love he bears;
As great as the values he redeems
And the happiness he shares.
A man is as great as the thoughts he thinks,
As the worth he has attained;
As the fountains at which his spirit drinks
And the insight he has gained.
A man is as great as the
truth he speaks,
As great as the destiny he seeks,
As great as the life he lives.

Paris was the Trojan to whom aphrodite (goddess of love) had promised the hand of Helen, most beautiful of mortal women. Paris seduced, then abducted Helen, and took her to Troy. This was the beginning of the Trojan War.

Mark A. Cummins
 November 21, 1950 - September 8, 1968
Blessed are the Peacemakers — for they shall be called the sons of God.

And the priests and the priestesses said unto him:
 Let not the waves of the sea separate us now and the years you have spent in our midst become a memory.

You have walked among us a spirit and your shadow has been a light upon our faces.
 Much have we loved you. But speechless was our love, and with veils it has been veiled.

Yet now it cries aloud unto you, and would stand revealed before you.
 And ever has it been that love know not its own depth until the hour of separation . . .

. . . Brief were my days among you, and briefer still the words I have spoken.

But should my voice fade in your ears and my love vanish in your memory, then

I will come again

And with a richer heart and lips more yielding to the spirit will I speak.

Yea, I shall return with the tide,
 And though death may hide me, and the greater silence enfold me, yet again will I seek your understanding.

And not in vain will I seek
 If aught I have said is truth, that truth shall reveal itself in a clearer voice, and in words more kin to your thought.

TROY'S THIRD EXCHANGE STUDENT GOES TO GERMANY

I cannot help being excited about my coming year as Troy's foreign exchange student to Germany. What the year holds for me is uncertain. But it is all before me and I am eager for all the experiences and people that I will meet.

People ask me if I'm not scared and sorry about leaving home. Naturally, it's going to be difficult to say good-bye to everything and everyone I have known for the past seventeen years. But as Tennyson expressed it:

I am a part of all that I have met;
Yet, all experience is an arch where thro
Gleams that untravelled world,

And I feel that what I am doing is valuable. It is valuable because in an age of such appalling atrocities as the H-bomb, war games, and napalm, it is more important than ever for men to establish communicative contacts and understanding. For with every personal contact established and every friendship sincerely extended, there is a dispelling of hostilities between men and nations. And only then can there be peace and good will among men.

Often I will think of Troy and everyone connected with my life here. It's a little sad to realize I won't see Trojans for more than a year. But I wouldn't give up the experience for anything! It is, I'm quite confident, going to be an invaluable year of personal "awakening" and exciting opportunities of which I intend to make the most. Hopefully upon my return, I can transmit to Americans those feelings and discoveries.

I am not afraid of the coming year. For I will be among people. And I believe in a basic universality of man — his differences arising only from the materialistic conditions under which he is forced to live. Sandburg saw the world as: "People! flung wide and far, born into toil, struggle, blood and dreams . . . here are the loved and unloved, the lonely and abandoned, the brutal and the impas-sionate — one big family hugging close the ball of Earth for its life and being."

SENIOR TOAST

Glasses have been raised and toasts proclaimed since Neanderthal man first celebrated his great prowess at the hunt. Sitting around a roaring prehistoric fire, I'm sure he must have lifted a hoary hand, grasping an ill-shapen pottery cup, filled, no doubt, with fermented berry juice, and praised his fellow hunters, their skill, their daring, their courage.

The ancient ritual has continued. The setting has changed slightly, but the plaudits are given for the same reasons tonight. The faculty — and I especially — would like to commend you for your skill, your daring, your courage.

The skills you possess are many. You, as graduating seniors, are more sophisticated, knowledgeable, and erudite than any generation that has preceded you. You have been reading since you were six; you have been absorbing, for good or ill, the transmissions of that 20th-century marvel, the television set. Books, pamphlets, periodicals, and printed matter of all kinds have been daily fare for you. Teachers and educators and parents have insisted — no, demanded — that you read, read, read. You have been exposed via panel discussions, speeches, and field trips to politics, philosophy, and biology. In short, you are the best-educated class to ever graduate from Troy High School.

But my toast to you tonight is more in honor of your daring and courage. The strike of your generation against the outrages of war, poverty, and racial discrimination — against the social diseases of infidelity, conformity, and materialism — is a courageous act. You are a generation of youth who knows, understands, the deep meaning of the Golden Rule, and are bold enough and honest enough to practice it. That revolutionary action has earned you much criticism and ill will. When you've challenged traditional ideas, you've been reprimanded; when you've questioned authoritarian concepts, you've been censured; when you've spoken the truth, you've been rebuked. You're not easy to live with. It's uncomfortable to have you around because you are a spur to apathy, a goad to complacency, a stimulus to indifference. But you are real. You are honest and resolute in a world that is woefully lacking in these qualities.

You, as students, have taught us a great deal. We hope, sincerely, that you may have learned something from us as well. It is with messages of good luck on our lips and prayers of hope in our hearts that we bid you goodbye.

WE CAME; WE SAW; WE CONQUERED

by Barbara Denoyer

Our high school years tell quite a story
That starts with fear and ends with glory
And has included in between
The things we've done, the sights we've seen.
It all began in '65
When in the fall we did arrive
And found ourselves a little lost
And by the upperclassmen bossed.
But things began to happen fast
And soon we were a close-knit class.
We saw the way that things were done
Deciding it just might be fun.
Phys. Ed. we learned from Hildred and Gary
Each day our gym class seemed to vary
But there was some excitement as one could have guessed
When a fire drill caught second period half-dressed.
Miss Floyd tried to teach us all kinds of knowledge
To try to prepare us for four years of college.
And even if we learned not a thing,
We were given the privilege of hearing her sing.
Mr. Hoffman in Math class was really quite tough
As he flipped quarters catching them all in his cuff.
Some kids on the other hand had Mr. Wiley
Who just stood in front of the class looking smiley.
Our Classes in Science were really a pain
Mr. Thomas was always explaining his plane.
Sometimes we'd laugh so hard we could cry
If we learned nothing else, at least we learned how to fly.
Everyone thought the boys were insane
When they started a marathon basketball game.
But they kept right on working at their little caper,
Eventually getting their names in the paper.
Well, this about did it for our Freshman year
And also for some of our shyness and fear.
And so now we would happily move to 10th grade,
To see all the progress, if any, we'd made.
And now we come to '66
A year for work, a year for kicks
A year for more of our long hard study
With hopes that the road wouldn't be as muddy.
Barbara and Jerry took gym over now
We studied our bodies, the why and the how.
But discussions in class weren't enough for our gents
They thought they'd learn more looking through the girls' vents.
Mrs. Fogt tried to teach us Biology I
But the boys seemed only there to have fun.
They paid no attention and did what they wished.
First period decided they wanted to fish.
Some boys entered Key Club and some Interact
And tried out for all sports from football to track.
The girls entered Block "T" and learned how to scream
In an organized manner to help out the team.
Our cheerleading judges were really quite choosy
And finally chose Eva, Kathy, and Susie.
For two years they'd lead us in varsity cheers
As we'd cheer on our boys through victories and tears.
In English our Orgel book now hit the scene
As we'd learn many new words and what each one means.
To some, though, it just seemed like a bother
And it went in one ear and right out the other.
Our 16th birthdays began to arrive
We all thought we were big now that we could drive.
We all wanted to see how exciting it feels
To get around town on a new set of wheels.
But soon our Sophomore year was over
And now it seemed we were all in clover.
Our first two years were now in the past
And finally we hit the upper class.
As Juniors our English was really a pain
Some kids had Miss Jacobs, some Miss Floyd again.
Mike Matthews got upset and thought it absurd,
So he wrote how he felt in his book, word for word.
Mr. Biesner attempted in Chemistry lab
To show us experiments without getting mad

But the only real thing that 5th period learned
Was how to crack marbles without getting burned.
In one of our pep rallies here at the school
Tom Dunam walked in with a giant slide rule.
His actions resulted from something he'd heard
On a morning announcement he thought was absurd.
We worked long and hard with the guidance of "Kaz"
To host this year's prom as each junior class.
We made it the greatest and prettiest dance
And used as a title "An Evening in France."
This year marked the start of the boys newest craze
When the girls climbed the stairs, they'd sit there and gaze.
But their new little game gained a bit of attention
At one council meeting when it had been mentioned.
Then all at once the Seniors were gone
Leaving us chores that we must carry on
Finally reaching the top of the school
Ready to move on, ready to rule.
Now we were starting our very last year
And all of the previous vagueness grew clear.
The girls turned to women, the boys turned to men,
The days were all happy, the fun time began.
Though football this year wasn't really too hot
I'm sure the last game's one that no one forgot
With a party at Adams' topping it all
As everyone laughed watching each other fall.
The marching band this year was really quite good
They performed many tricks that no other band could.
Their motto was always "The show must go on"
Even when all the lights in the stadium were gone.
Our Homecoming night was a beautiful scene
With Katy reigning as our beautiful queen
And Shannon out there leading the cheers
And seeing all the Block "T"'s tears.
Everyone seemed to make such a fuss
When senior boys threw eggs at our Block "T" bus.
But we soon put an end to the jokes that they played
By making them clean up the mess that they'd made.
Coach Conard's wrestling team really was great
With Tony and Bill competing at state
This team earned our high school much glory and fame
And helped to make wrestling a dignified game.
Our class worked hard at the chicken dinner
To make this class activity a winner
And it really was a success even though
Some carry-outs didn't get where they were to go.
The senior cheerleaders had their flings
Like everyone else, they all went to Bing's.
But then their cheers were a little upended
When, for two games they were suspended.
Now spring had come with its showers and ants
And bright flowers all over George's pants.
But since the teachers thought it strange
They made poor George go home and change.
Some guys were excused to go hunting this year
But Bradley shot not only deer.
And Monte was quite unexpectedly thrown
When he was caught hunting in nature's own.
Our political parties were BRIAR and WAR
With rallies to show what each party stood for
And three days to campaign and really have fun
Messing the halls up and just acting dumb.
Then came the Junior and Senior Prom
When our lovely queen Becky and our handsome king Tom Reigned over a dance with a wintery theme
That was really quite properly titled "Snowdreams."
Now comes the time that we've waited for,
To close up the books that we'll use no more
To leave behind our childhood days
And go along our separate ways.
Recalling all the things we've done
It's clear we've shown to everyone
That we are mighty, we are fine,
We're the great class of "69".
